

Every Move, Every Touch

Silent Circle

You slam the door, it's late at night,
It's just the end of daily fight
You're so vain, it's a shame
I don't wanna be a fool for your delight
You struck me down, I hit the floor,
I have no time to shut the door
Grab the knife, take my life
'Cause it couldn't be a love like just before
You are living in the world of fantasy
Tell me why can't you live in faith and harmony

Every move, every touch,
Every word is gonna hurt so much
Come on feel the fire, the flames of desire
My heart is beating for you
Every move, every touch,
Every word is gonna hurt so much

Since you are gone I can't forget
The time with you and words you said
I'm alive, can't survive
And I can't save the life we always had
I'm really hurt, it's not enough
To be so cruel as a kind of love
Grab the knife, take my life
'Cause it couldn't be a love like just before
You are living in the world of fantasy...
