

Bitter Pill

Silent Civilian

How can I forget
The things that I, I still regret
I'm wasted
Digest this bitter pill

I close my eyes
Cold sweat's I feel the chill
Inside
I descent into the abyss of a sin

Recall decisions that I made within
This sense of guilt building up deep inside
Respect of the main I once knew slowly dies
Confined to sleepless nights

My past will haunt
My constant shadow fights
I fall
As time stands still, memories just stay alive

My head hangs low from the lack of disguise
The weakness slowly dismembers my soul
I can't find exactly where I lost control
