Walk The Earth

Silent Force

If somehow I find the words Saying what I feel inside right now It's quiet, no sound My voice seems to become silent somehow

If we're alone and then you ask me Am I honest with myself I'll tell you "no" Do you believe in ever after? I struggle with the answers I can't show

If I look into the mirror I have to turn away I fool the disconnected I'm the man I cannot face I've lived amongst expansion Under no uncertain terms It's finally catching me somehow Oh will I ever learn

And now it seems my days are numbered My fate is closing in on me I know Do you think that I am shallow? Will I kneel before the beast that lies below

I walk the earth, Image of my world Come feel the noise, It's through a voice unheard I walk the earth I've fallen far from grace Come feel the noise, My shell's an empty space I walk the earth

Oh, hanging on the balance, It's the path that I have led Keeps them all believing This is know that I have said Uncertain is the outcome, It appears it's not all lost This is what I've chosen Most of the time it plays out wrong

If we're alone that's when I'll ask you Are you honest with yourself you'll tell me "no" And you believe in ever after I know the answer now just say it's so

I walk the earth...
