Painless

Silentium

"Let me drown within this river, let me drown in this deep sile nce... ... Where I will be forever painless" What painful the chalice She drank so calmly There was his arms Around her naked body She still tastes his lips With her mouth A fragile rose Was her heart broken Still was the night That peaceful night When he arose To walk away You, speak to her, Speak not of love When all she had Forever gone Fall with her Bleed with her Betray her Shred her soul "Misera nobis Dies illacrimo" Still is the night Silent the echoes linto the void she drowns Oh let the ocean devour her Lifeless Painless...
