

Revangelis

Silentium

You took my hand
And we both were falling

You embraced me
And we both were drowning

Did I feel you here
Ot was I only dreaming
Did I hear you sigh
Or was I only screaming
All is lost but pain
I thought it would be fading

All is lost but hope of you arriving...

I woke again,
arisen with the mornlight
And we both were falling...

Did I feel her now
Or was I only dreaming
Did I hear her sigh
Or was I only screaming
Don't let them turn
The knives deeper in her

And now I am forever falling...
(Falling...Falling...)

How painful to feel
Her pain and emotion
I heaved a sigh
Of poetic passion
She left again
Gone with the twilight

And now I am forever falling

"Cursed be all those, who preach with a high voice for the benefit of their hordes.
For they are the weakest in faith, and the darkest within their heart themselves..."
