

No Paradise

Silke Bischoff

Can you tell me where's the light in your eyes
I remember you laughing like a child
Now you talk to me with a failing voice
Looking so much older than you are
Can you tell me babe where are the stars in your eyes
Can you tell me
There's no paradise
Tell me why did you lose all your dreams
You wanted to change the world now you're failing like a withered leaf
Even too weak to change yourself
A liquid sky like running ink
White crystals in a burning ocean
Crucified with needles
There's no paradise
Your blood is pouring down your arms
Your future in a sooty spoon
Crucified with needles
There's no paradise
Can you tell me where's the light in your eyes
I remember you laughing like a child
now you get lost in the twilight zone
Engulfed by infinite Darkness
A liquid sky like running ink
White crystals in a burning ocean
Crucified with needles
There's no paradise
