

Trying to believe
In something more than me
It has been so long but still I can't see
Trying to break out
And settling without
What you need me to be
Will I ever be free?

Choosing my own lane
Still the memories remain
Give me sight so I can see
(I'm on my knees)
There's nothing left to fear
To myself I will adhere
Because I still believe in me

Found my self denied
To what I want from Myself eventually to become
Now I'm standing here
Wishing to appear
As someone new
This time I'll follow through

Choosing my own lane
Still the memories remain
Give me sight so I can see
(I'm on my knees)
Theres nothing left to fear
To myself I will adhere
Because I still believe in me