

Echoes

Silver End

Insantiy's knocking at my door
Can't keep ignoring it anymore
It tells me to vanish from this place
Escape from the sins I can't erase

The echoes that hunts me and hates me,
They're trembling the ground where I thought I'd be at peace, a t peace

I shall face it my own way
And somehow I will be redeemed
Cause I really want to stay
So I shout, get away from m e

A wreckage with nothing left to lose
Will move on without a bruise
But someone with everything to fear
Is like a warrior without his spear

The shadows of my own reflection
Are not silhouttes of someone resembling me
And NO

I shall face it my own way
And somehow I will be redeemed
Cause I really want to stay
So I shout, get away from me

The echoes that hunts me and hates me,
They're trembling the ground where I thought I'd be at peace, a t peace!

I shall face it my own way
And somehow I will be redeemed
Cause I really want to stay
So I shout, get away from me
