Echoes

Silver End

Insantiy's knocking at my door Can't keep ignoring it anymore It tells me to vanish from this place Escape from the sins I can't erase

The echoes that hunts me and hates me,
They're trembling the ground where I thought I'd be at peace, a t peace

I shall face it my own way
And somehow I will be redeemed
Cause I really want to stay
So I shout, get away from m

A wreckage with nothing left to lose Will move on without a bruise But someone with everything to fear Is like a warrior without his spear

The shadows of my own reflection Are not silhouttes of someone resembling me And NO

I shall face it my own way And somehow I will be redeemed Cause I really want to stay So I shout, get away from me

The echoes that hunts me and hates me,
They're trembling the ground where I thought I'd be at peace, a t peace!

I shall face it my own way And somehow I will be redeemed Cause I really want to stay So I shout, get away from me
