

The Dark Side in You

Silverlane

So you're still searching for the meaning of life
Your way was so tiring but soon you will arrive at the place of all your dreams You'll walk stairs of gold You'll find eternal peace and everything is gonna be like it's foretold Soon they'll welcome you to the end of all your pain
It's a short one way journey and you will never return again
But they promise you light
They promise you strength
The time seems so right
This is your chance

There's no other way!
Now start, overcome
the dark side in you There's nothing left to say Stand up and fight
the dark side in you

Though everything is broken, please don't waste your only chance
Don't let the wishes unspoken turn into suicidal trance
First you walk on stairs of gold but at last on broken glass
The warmth turns into cold It's your only chance

Take a look at the mirror and describe what you can see
The dark side in you Use your faith and your power to fight and defeat
the dark side in you
