I'll Just Remember You

I don't remember day and night Don't remember any fights I don't remember what to do I just remember you

I can't recall the summer breeze Whispers through the apple trees And I forget the songs I knew I just remember you

Time to go on So much life to be lived on my own Someday I'll wake up as good as new

Then I'll remember skies of blue Handsome boys I almost knew I try my best but I know it's true I'll just remember you Simon Carly