The Love's Still Growing

Simon Carly

And I'm so high I can't go on Oh but I Can sing this song

Because the love's still growing And the love's still growing

Some folk say That all hope is gone But today, the world is one

Because the love's still growing And the love's still growing

It's time to say It's time to know that it's O.K., that some must go.
