

War Babies

Simple Minds

See the white clouds roll in
Spirits lying next to me
Catch the wildflower falling
It's the wound that never bleeds

Hear the sirens calling
Spinning out their show
Hold the moment close to me
And take it down too slow

Be mine, be mine
War Babies
Be mine, be mine
War Babies

Can you still keep going?
Shattered pieces left inside
To face the final knowing
That there's something you can't hide

Be mine, be mine
War Babies
Be mine, be mine
War Babies

So will the force let go
Or will the phantoms stay?
Let the foreteller be your sight
It feels like something's happenin' today

Some shame's like no other
But nothing feels the same
Nothing feels the same

War Babies
Feels like something's happening today
...

Be mine
War Babies
Feels like something's happening
Feels like something's happening today

Nothing feels the same
War Babies
War Babies
Nothing feels the same
Be mine
