

Daylight fading dusk awaiting swallowing my lucidness

Hell on earth
dreams turned to nightmares petrified of existence

I see the shadows
even though there is nobody else around

Take these memories
from me and place them never to be found

I've been left here in ruins
no one listening to my plea Can't escape the intrusion
swarmed with anguish and frailty

Can't I break free?
Drowning into hopelessness
Let me believe
in stability's caress
Torment I breathe
suffocating willfully Cascading deep
this mirage I need

When the lights turn out hallucination is my only friend Heading down into a slumber hoping I will meet my end

Can't escape the intrusion

Can't I break free?
in stability's caress

suffocating willfully
Cascading deep
this mirage I need
