

Everybody

Sinner

Sinner / Tom Naumann

I lie awake at night thinkin' about you

Your body next to mine

It's good to feel your heartbeat

I never thought that I'd be touching you, loving you

And all the lost and lonely nights were so hard

Without you

Everybody wants somebody

I want you by my side

Everybody needs somebody

I want you

I need you

Memories of moments that couldn't be destroyed

I threw off these chains

They're holding me back

Why did we pretend

We didn't care

Were we scared

I hate the thought

To walk the streets of broken dreams
