

Lullaby

Siouxsie and the Banshees

The lunacy will leave the day
Luminous in flight
As the moon spits out
In jagged beams
Another night

Wrap around this brilliant veil
Tranquil and unbroken
As you spiral down
A world of clay and taut convulsion

The dream swan spins
And cartwheel turns

Down deep within your violet slide
The sun begins to rise
Shaking down its morning swords
To thaw your frozen eyes
The dream swan spins
And so conceals
A heart that aches and yearns

O hush awhile
Sleepless child
I'll be watching over you
