

All My Dreams

Sirenia

All these dreams I left behind
All these tears I cried through mournful nights They're still haunting me as years pass by
All the dreams I ever wanted to come true for me
I saw them all cease to be

All my dreams decline, they fade away and die
I see them all passing by, break before my eyes
And still I wonder why
No dreams come true for me in this life

All the love you offered me was not enough to ever set me free
I still recall all we hope to be
All my words still left unspoken
A troubled mind and a heart so broken

All my dreams decline, they fade away and die
I see them all passing by, break before my
eyes
And still I wonder why
No dreams come true for me in this life

All my dreams decline, they fade away and die
I see them all passing by, break before my
eyes
And still I wonder why
No dreams come true for me in this life
