

Lullaby

Sistars

After the sundown the same midnight comes around.
Wish U could hear my lovely Lullaby.
So many things still depend on our senses,
How much more help would bring you my presence?
I wish you could hear my lovely lullaby.
Like silent clouds your thoughts just pass U by.
How much more help would bring you my presence?
All answers are hidden in blessings of patience..
Like silent clouds your thoughts just pass you by.
This is your song if your dream is mine..
All answers are hidden in blessings of patience
(that's right)
This is your song if your dream is mine.
I run through the rain.
Those raindrops make you shine.
So fragile your life is like burning incense,
Come feel each moment until the essence..
I run through the rain (those raindrops make U shine)
Reflecting the lights (of infinite stars)
I'm that orange moon that looks at your face.
I wish U were with me - the same time, the same place
