Firefly

Sister Hazel

She's not like anyone else You wonder why she captured You like a firefly And makes you shine like you never could alone

And tell me Can you see her shining Through a crowded room Where she's the view And maybe She'll embrace your innocence maybe

She gets high but hates those cigarettes She speaks and breaks your intellect And she's allowed to change her mind Just you try to stop her yeah

And so it is The same you've not been since One hit and you were lit up like a firefly Be careful what you wish

She tells stories like a painter, yeah With colorful words that I don't always understand But it always sounds like somewhere better than here Yeah, everywhere is better with her

She has a subtle way Of making you forget your darkness Behind some clever conversation No finer heart, could ever beat for you [Chorus]
