

One Time

Sister Hazel

Can't we just drive away
And forget about yesterday by tomorrow
She says my heart is a spinning wheel
It never slows down to heal from the sorrow

She says well I know what I want

One time I wanna be the hero baby
One time I wanna be who you adore
One time when you look at me again
Like I'm more than just a friend
This time
Just one time

Trying to forget the past
Keep dropping away so fast from the real you
He says I'm tired of the circumstance
Now I'm asking for one more chance for a clear view

He says now I know what I want

All this time been running around
Been looking around
And you've been standing right in front of my face
Those times spent running away
At the end of the day you can't just replace
What we need isn't lost
It lay's right in this space
'Cause you were always there

[Chorus]
