

From Twilight to Dusk

Six Degrees of Separation

No sun, no clouds, no moon, no stars
Just endless grip of dark
No birds to sing, no birds to fly
No hope to bring them back, the hope has died
This night has come to never leave
And shadows steal the air we breathe
Hopeless souls in a twilight world
Cursed and lost they starve
Twilight crawls, twilight breathes
Twilight howls, twilight screams
It's more than only lack of light
It deviates both soul and mind
Burning, blazing, glowing, howling night
Creeping, crawling, breathing, prowling night
Burning, blazing, glowing, howling night
Creeping, crawling, breathing, prowling night
From twilight to dusk
Hopeless souls in a twilight world
Cursed and lost they starve
Twilight crawls, twilight breathes
Twilight howls, twilight screams
It's more than only lack of light
It deviates both soul and mind
Then the Sickness was born and new fire was started
Bluish flames of the nocturnal madness shall define my way
It's more than only lack of light
It deviates both soul and mind
Burning, blazing, glowing, howling night
Creeping, crawling, breathing, prowling night
From twilight to dusk
