

Decomposition of the Human Race

Six Feet Under

the hopeless, the terrified you're petrified, its time to die i vomit in the face of the faithful the mislead, the ignorant the ones who are truly dangerous

a warning from beyond the grave
out of the ashes
and into the fucking flames

the souless, the unworthy the undead
now walk the walk the earth in pain to devour to massacre you to overtake this world the mislead
the ignorant
the ones who are truly dangerous
its time to die

a warning from beyond the grave

the image of men betrays that which distinguishes him from other animals his ability to observe himself the decay of modern society, leads to doom turn back the clock retreat into the essence of life but its too late for you now its too late for you now

varicose the heart is now closed eyes still open, but soon you'll decompose and its a bottomless pit.
