Zombie blood curse

I am alive and now undead The walking terror is unleashed Your slow death is just what I'll reap The cuts begin to bleed Zombie blood curse These are events that can't be stopped They have been stalking you for years The blood that runs through my dead corpse is black as night From the grave The shadow of death The peril inside Alive and decayed The rotten now will rise The dead come to life All your desperate thoughts All your helpless pleas All your dying screams All your fucking pain With all my inner hate You will die This is a curse that can't be stopped It has been haunting you for years The blood that runs through my dead bones is black as night, black as night The shadow of death The devil inside Black as night The rotten now will rise The dead come to life All your desperate thoughts All your helpless pleas All your dying screams All your fucking pain All I really grave With all my inner hate With all my buried rage With all my buried rage You will die You can't kill what has no heartbeat left inside A severed dream now fades away Black as night now dead in the bright of daylight I am alive and now undead The walking terror is unleashed Your slow death is just what I'll reap

I am the curse that can't be stopped
I have been warning you for years
The blood that runs through my dead heart is black as night

All your desperate thoughts
All your helpless pleas
All your dying screams
All your fucking pain
All I really grave
With all my inner hate
With all my buried rage
With all my buried rage

You will die
