

In The Clear

Six60

So the hours run away
You're getting smaller by the day
But the shelters, they keep you away
I hope you're ready for the breakaway

So don't succumb to mist and dust
Because you know they misconstrue
And the mind plays games to stay in frame
As it put those locks on you
When the lights come on, the chains come off
And watch it start to flow
I hope you're ready for the breakaway

We're in the clear
We're in the clear, yeah, yeah

We're in the clear
Yeah...

So the hours, they run away
But the shelters, they keep you away
Now the hours, they run away
Hope you're ready for the breakaway, yeah

We're in the clear
We're in the clear
We're in the clear
We're in the clear

So the hours, they run away
But the shelters, they keep you away
Now the hours, they run away
Hope you're ready for the breakaway, yeah

We're in the clear
We're in the clear
We're in the clear
We're in the clear
Yeah, yeah
