

Chained To A Memory

Skeeter Davis

Makes no difference if we two are far apart dear
I could never ever love somebody new Cause there isn't any room inside my heart dear
While I'm chained to a memory of you.

I could never tell another I belong to them
All those whispered words of love would not be true
I could never tell another that I long for them
While I'm chained to a memory of you.

Maybe time will wear the links away and then dear
They will break and set me free to love a new
I could never love someone else again dear
While I'm chained to a memory of you.

If the world should end tomorrow I'd be satisfied
'Cause you're gone and there is nothing I can do
All my dreams and precious hopes of yesterday they have died
Yet I'm chained to a memory of you...
