

He Left His Heart With Me

Skeeter Davis

You begged and you cried you filled him with shame
Till finally you won and he gave you his name
He gave you a ring he gave you everything
But he left his heart with me.

How could you think you would win all the way
Cheaters can win but just for today.

So now you can have all he'll ever possess
But his worldly goods won't bring you happiness
You may have his home and all that he owns
But he left his heart with me.

(How could you think you would win all the way
Cheaters can win but just for today.)

So now you can have all he'll ever possess
But his worldly goods won't bring you happiness
You may have his home and all that he owns
But he left his heart with me...
