

Little Things Got Big

Skeeter Davis

It was the little things that caused my tears to start
It was the little things that made us part
It was the little things that broke my heart
Little things got big.

It was the little things caused problems everywhere
It was the little things that proved you didn't care
It was the little things that built the love we shared
Little things got big.

One little word led to another
Till it was just one great big fault
One little thing led to another
Till it brought the best of us.

It was the little things like telling little lies
It was the little things that made me realize
It was the little things that made us say goodbye
Little things got big yes little things got big...
