

Boundaries

Skillet

I stand here closed and open
Praying for the summer rains
Reaching in to pull back the curtains
Ruling in this desolate land

I will let me go
My walls melt away

You have no boundaries
You cross my borders
You have no boundaries
You crash my borders

I lie here clothed and naked
Dam bursts to cool ocean waves
Black water cleans the highway
Resting in the washing away

I will let me go
My walls melt away

You have no boundaries
You cross my borders
You have no boundaries
You crash my borders

You are more than all that is outside of me
You are more than that which is inside of me

You have no boundaries
I have no borders from you
You have no boundaries
I have no borders
