Burnt Like You

You'll always be a born Worn out loser Still blaming all of us For your bad choosing No I can't watch the same mistake Waiting for the boys to turn out straight No I can't run the same dog race And get burnt like you You're swollen in the gut From all those last nights Still swinging vodka punches That don't land right