

Living a Lie

Skindred

Yo, you're not real you're fake
Running your mouth but you made a mistake
I see through you like a pane of glass
One shot of trouble and you're out like ras
Screaming about I'm not into this mess
I never really wanna get into this mess
You were going on like you're a gangster
When you were the first to outta ya
You got a real fake tan going love
Why you talking like you're black for then bruv
These a perfect storm coming on like Pinocchio
Your nose it just grew

Faking and frauding
I do believe mans talking
Real life gets boring
The truth we're all distorting

Don't ever tell no one, cause it's a secret
And if they find out I know I never leaked it
A crippled broken soul means to an ending
A thousand million of us just pretending
Living a lie still
Living a lie
Living a lie
I know what you are

Who gets caught in a relationship?
Where they can't go out and they're pussy whipped
All I wanted was a one night stand
Not worries with a woman who's spending grands
This was not supposed to be me
Caught in a place where I don't wanna be
Fucked now that's my reality
There's too many people them are sleeping with the enemy
So why the fuck do you stay with him for mum
But that's the way your dads always been son
Too much of this shit going on
And I can't tell who's

Faking and frauding
I do believe mans talking
Real life gets boring
The truth we're all distorting

Don't ever tell no one, cause it's a secret
And if they find out I know I never leaked it
A crippled broken soul means to an ending
A thousand million of us just pretending
Living a lie still
Living a lie
Living a lie
I know what you are
