

In the air my troubles are away
Only if just for this one day
Everyday is an afternoon clowns
Kings and Queens and we all get crowned

The change has fly, leaving you left to try

Walking through dark, she stumbles into the light
Bleaching out the backdrop, her eyes steal the wait

She thinks the worlds so gray
It's right because it's just that way
Life's through backdrops and colossal extremes
Your reactions make me want to, want to scream

The change has fly, leaving you left to try

Walking through dark, she stumbles into the light
Bleaching out the backdrop, her eyes steal the wait

Your headaches, get up, get up, go

Walking through dark, she stumbles into the light
Bleaching out the backdrop, her eyes steal the wait
You're living alone
