

Heavier Than Metal

Skull Fist

Riding on the streets again you see the feeling in my eyes trying to be free again will take you to the other side power filled with vengeance warriors on the rise

we are the leaders of a ship thats sailing free heavier than metal for me when all is lost were still fighting to believe

guided by a shooting star I follow to the very end a legion filled with metal dreams there only living to defend
warriors on the rise

when all is lost were still fighting to believe

riding on the streets again I see you fighting by my side the powers in our hands again this time were gonna make it right power filled with vengeance
warriors on the rise

when all is lost were still fighting to believe
heavier than metal for me
