

Death to the Lovers

Skunk Anansie

With my heart in your hands
I will suffer, suffer 'till the bitter end, yeah
With my heart in your hands
I feel trouble, trouble smother who I am, oh oh

Water rush in, spirit moving
Darkness comes, I feel magnificent

Sinking in, the love has failed
The world goes crushing down to hell
I try, I try
I'm breathing in, I'm choking out
All sentiment has faded out
Just died, died

I see death for the lovers

With my heart in your hands
I will stagger, stumble, shatter 'till I'm gone, yeah
With my heart in your hands
I speak my distraction to give you what you want, yeah

Water rush in, spirit moving
Darkness comes, I feel magnificent

I'm sinkin'in, the love has failed
The world goes crushing down to hell
I try, I try
I'm breathing in, I'm choking out
All sentiment has faded out
Just died, died

There were days when we were sparkles in the air
We were losing gold to souls without a care
Now the photographs come crushing to the ground

I'm sinkin'in, the love has failed
The world goes crushing down to hell
I try, I try
I'm breathing in, I'm choking out
All sentiment has faded out
Just died, died

There were days when we sent sparkles in the air
Now the songs are all and nothing solitaire

I'm breathing in, I'm choking out
All sentiment has faded out
Just died, died

I see death for the lovers
death for the lovers
