

She Is Just A Glitch

Sky Eats Airplane

Something you once told me,
no regrets no wasted efforts,
I'm left in the wake of your returning glory.
You looked so confident in your decision.
While the light of your indifference.

So pure in your deception,
so right in your mind.
This is just my luck, it's always been my luck,
come closer so I can see you. You're cold to the touch.
Hasn't anyone ever told you this is just my luck.
Say what you will. You're no longer the death of me.
This whole shipwreck has been sent to sea.
So go ahead and take what you will from me.
It doesn't matter.
I've been set free!

And I am running out of words.
And I am running out of time.
To explain to you what we could have been.
Now the chance is over and I'll admit that I am just fine today
I am just fine today. I'll admit that to you.
I am just fine today. I'll admit that to you.
I am just fine today.
You wont bring me down again.
I am just fine today. You wont bring me down again.
I am just fine today. You wont bring me down again.
I am just fine today. You wont bring me down again.
I am just fine today. You wont bring me down again.
You wont bring me down again.
