

Sound Of Symmetry

Sky Eats Airplane

How trails of thoughts are lost inside the pause around you. This is the sound of symmetry, between the ground, and gravity.

Standing high, looking down at city lights. In the making of an emergency, I'll turn around and walk away. Did you think I would let you leave? In the making of this emergency, I'll turn around and walk away...

Well 40 stories never looked so fun, learn to fall with me. Take a chance don't forget to jump. Close your eyes and breathe.

I'll eat you alive, if you haven't got the timing right. You will be all mine. I'll hunt you down. Cause I stood and watched you define betrayal. I'm right here...

You tell me what you want but never what you need, give me a sign. Cause I'm not afraid, I'm not afraid to say it's okay. You show me what you want but never what you need, give me a sign. Cause I'm not afraid...

Well 40 stories never looked so fun, learn to fall with me. Take a chance don't forget to jump. Close your eyes and breathe.

I'm right here...through the glass I hide behind, you dream of things you'll never find. You haven't a clue who I am. But I know you all too well....

Standing high, looking down at city lights. In the making of an emergency, I'll turn around and walk away. Did you think I would let you leave? In the making of this emergency, I'll turn around and walk away...
