

I didn't know you should've said
You could've told me love was dead
Did we kill it all and never stall me word
Drop the ball it cannot be returned it's dead

I didn't know you lost before
You could've told me you knew the score
Misplaced it all and then called off the search
Vanished soul but you don't feel it hurts no more

Dissolve in my head, resolve lay to rest
Dissolve in my head, we roll to the end
To the end

Know we reach the edge
And it was only a harsh pretends
On to knees we fall and seach them to the sky
As we crawl without a reason why no sends

Dissolve in my head, resolve lay to rest
Dissolve in my head, we roll to the end
To the end

And though I walk away I still see you
Stuck in a world on top with you
Come to see and why you accomplish all you do
And now I can't resolve this stumbling
Consider now I'm done with it
Leave me a wound that's opened all for you

And though I walk away I still see you
Stuck in a world on top with you
Come to see and why you accomplish all you do
And now I can't resolve this stumbling
Consider now I'm done with it
Leave me a wound that's opened all for you
