

Featherlight

Skye

Parallels in daily life, I'm guessing it's not a lie
Your giving me something to fall to
I'm saying that I know you're perfect and cloudless
I'll hold on to maybe a bit of you

Only when feel I'm falling, will I fall for you
And I'll be featherlight, I'll float right in to view
But will I get there, or will I wonder if you'll blow me loose?
Cause I feel featherlight, I might just float on through

I'm feeling insane but my heart, it gets it
So climb up upon there for a better view
Will you stay the same here, nowhere, and satisfied?
In order to combine me and you

Only when feel I'm falling, will I fall for you
And I'll be featherlight, I'll float right in to view
But will I get there, or will I wonder if you'll blow me loose?
Cause I feel featherlight, I might just float on through

Is it for me? Does it feel right? Love is so bright Inside pulling at heart strings. I've tried it but like it when I'm free to see the moons dark side for a while
Is it why I'm low, does anybody know?
