

I can tell you're feeling lost,
wondering round without a clue.
The road you will cross
take my hand I'll lead you.
Now, I don't know it all
but if you fall,
I'll be there for you.
The things that you can be
are there for us to see.

I believe in you.
I believe in all the things that you do.

I've seen you and your battle scars,
caught up in these rattling chains.
I wonder how you are inside this so called fame.
I wanna fill your empty shell
free you from the spell,
throw away the blame.
I'm gonna set your soul at ease,
thaw you from the freeze.
We're travelling full speed
we got all that we need,
let's go out on that ride.
It's time for you and me and all that we can be.
