

Escape From The Dark

Skylark

When the devil goes down to mankind
When the horizon and desert will be blind
When the fire burns an empty world
Nothing from the darkness... are you alone?

You have to capture your strength
Erase all the fears from your mind
So take a ticket with me for this escape from the dark

Death is coming... no one save us
Knife and blood... you must die
Believe it again
Dark and cries... end of life
Ride the thunder... is the lance chance so we start
The escape from the dark

Like an arrow you have to run alone
Look behind: a moment of life before

You have break this high wall
Fight hard: the enemy is near
You'd better take a ticket with me for this escape from the dark

Now can you imagine the light?
Maybe you have a reason to try
Come on, take a ticket with me for this escape from the dark