

The Triumph

Skylark

White Warrior:

Another sunny fighting, another holy lighting, another way I'm seaching for the God eyes.

I would discover something, I'm glad to find the old king that rules alone and keeps the power in his hands.

I know we reach the triumph, I'm sure we can surprise you. There is no time, there is no chance without God.

We know the fight so unven, the wrong side and the devil.

They really want to be pratected by our souls.

So take me away where my spirit is rising, and my mind will collect with my soul.

You can't tell me what is wrong, but find the chance to return. I keep on fighting day by day so I will teach you so strong what I've learned.

My mission is the triumph, so I will cross the dark room until my senses will approach the golden gate.

This journey to the heaven. A way to live forever to keep on fighting in the name of our God.

Take away this lightning before it burns our day.

Drive our mask of fury in a satanic parade.

There's no time to ask if we really want to stay, there's one only clue, we save the world again.

Play the game tonight or we will lose our prayer in this world around.

The clouds will bring the slayer.

We survive again, the time has really come. our flag is rising, the battle begins.

White Warrior:

Take my hand and I lead the way against the monster in this evil day.

I'll get the power, I'm not alone to face the Evil's Call.

Don't hesitate, don't pray for me 'cause I'm so blind to spend my tears.

The black sword is by my side, so I will let you die

Heaven and fire are ready to explode through this wall.

The assassin of (the) princess is the rebel that fight with my soul.

knigh of fantasy, please come back to me, and the reality will touch my dreams.

Another step to find our life, another step to fight into this night.

Don't be afraid, stay by my side. This is the day to find our triumph!
