

if you can't fly
in your blue sky your worries are in motion nobody's there to give you a hand you play with no devotion

live your life

earless and blind can't read the sign that breaks the chains to freedom

life is not easy, sometimes can be cruel sometimes people forget basic rules people are lonely and scared too it's a strange way of living, change must come soon you'll find great treasure raise your arms in pleasure your inner riot goes quiet

don't hide inside but open to more sensation pick up the key to joy that lies on your path ask yourself where lies your happiness ration the time's come up to wake up to kindness

I'm flying high like a bird in the sky
from a bird's eye view I'm looking down at what people are doing right at this time take care, beware of ignorance stand upright with your head held high don't wait a long time, start right now
