

One Heaven

Skyline

we bring the message that you really gotta know for sure spread it around like life in freedom there's no difference between you nad me, I believe I hope you have heard something about equality it doesn't matter what's the colour of your skin but what you carry inside, we are most interested in wisdom beside knowledge is a fundamental thing and our deep souls still fire burning you gotta educate yourselves that always gives you power to defeat all the foolish and hypocrite liars you gotta fight against that nonsense ignorance try to build societiz in tolerance you know what side you belong to support humanity, like we do know your enemies, try to find the truth read between the lines, don't be a fool the colour problem got under human skin take off your brown shirt we don't support this scene clear your mind

heal your heart
now's the time

clear your mind, heal your heart, it's about time thinking 'bout the situation all around where is the truth, are you good?is that enough? is there anything you can change about your way of life?
