

What's Up ?

Skyline

it's friday night and I put my favourite clothes on I do my make up and my hair - that's what's going on tonight I'm enjoying my time, I'm calling a taxi car I'm taking all I need, I really want to feel fine

I lost my boy, feeling alone looking for someone, who turns me on two strange guys hunting me at the bar don't know how to say - don't like that style?

hey girl, what's up?
why don't you like my style? why not? I'm hot?

I want to see your smile hey kitty, you're pretty!

you are da best chick in the city take it easy and trust me
a. s. a. p. you ready to want me

I'm fed up with these guys and try to disappear somewhere I'm leaving this place, I'm tired of their nasty stares

I'd better meet some friends, I'm thinking about some other plans cos I'm not down with all those horny boys checkin' me out but those two guys still follow me they don't want give up trying to get with me tonight I should have stayed at home

Why don't you hear me saying: leave me alone?
