

Mind Your Manners

Slash

I am the rider, on the road I am a star
A true reminder, what you seek is where you are
I learned the hard way but still you always try to break me down
Your love is sorrow, but still I know I'm glory-bound

Don't get on my way, stand beside the dark, remember
Times change, I don't need you anymore
No way, no why, I don't need your alibi
So mind your man-, just mind your manners now

Don't look me in the eye and say you did no wrong
Don't brazenly deny you ever wished me gone
I learned the hard way, I took the fall, it was a long way down
Your love is sorrow, but still I know I'm glory-bound

Don't get on my way, stand beside the dark, remember
Times change, I don't need you anymore
No way, no why, I don't need your alibi
Mind your man-, just mind your manners now

Mind your manners now
Just remember in the end I'm glory-bound

Don't look me in the eye and say you did no wrong
Don't need to compromise, tomorrow I'll be gone

Don't get on my way, stand beside the dark, remember
Times change, I don't need you anymore
No way, no why, I don't need your alibi
Mind your man-, just mind your manners now
Just mind your manners now
Just mind your manners now
Just mind your manners now
Just mind your manners now
