

Too Far Gone

Slash

A kingdom lost
A ransom paid
A dying wish you got your way

Your foolish pride
A bitter age
Brought to dust
And laid to waste
Your empire lost
But nothing gained
How could you let it fall

Now it's all been decided
There is nothing you can do
You're too far gone
But its always the same old song
There ain't nothing left to prove
You're too far gone

Burn your bridges to the ground
Throw your tantrums
Scream out loud oh
Play the martyr
Play the fool
Tell the world it wasn't you
Who pulled the trigger in the end
Like you know you always do

'Cause it's all been decided
There is nothing you can do
You're too far gone
But its always the same old song
There ain't nothing left to prove
You're too far gone

Now it's all been decided
There is nothing you can do
You're too far gone
But its always the same old song
There ain't nothing left to prove
You're too far gone

You're too far gone
You're too far gone
Yeah too far gone
