

Just So You Know

Sleeperstar

When your world
Comes a-tumblin down
When the sky falls out of contact with
The stars around
Just so you know
There's a chance
You will land back on your feet
Just so you know
On the ground
In the dark you may find me
Just so you know
Oh, just know

You're not alone (x4)

When the stones
On which you stand break
When the power that had placed you there
Takes you away
Just so you know
There's a chance
Walls aren't what you need
Just so you know

When they're gone
You'll find that you are fine
Just so you know
Always know

You're not alone (x4)

To the light from which we came
We return
Why do we not burn for this?
Why do we not learn from this?
To the light from which we came
We return
Why do we not burn for this?
Why do we not learn from this?

When the night, undaunted, hides the way
When you think that you may never see the day
Just so you know
Always know

You're not alone
