

Pretend To Be The Same

Slick Shoes

You and I only have the time to smile when we pass by
Only time will finally wait you see how much of my life you have changed

Lets just stay right here this way we don't need to worry about tomorrow
And I know that things will change we'll just pretend there the same

The places we felt safe, taken away
Go and find what you need to be free

You and I only in our minds can laugh at the old times
Only time will finally wait you see how much of my life you have changed

Lets just stay right here this way we don't need to worry about tomorrow
But I know that things will change
