

Tired Of You

Slick Shoes

There's no better way to tell you how I feel than this.
Don't act so surprised,
it's been like this a long time.
Every time you turn your back on me,
it breaks my heart to think of all those times that I was there for you.
If there ever comes a time when I won't be there I hope you have some time and find someone else to abuse.
I won't be there, I'm not a fool.
I am getting tired of you.
I remember those rainy days when I stayed in.
I'd call you on the phone and try to be your friend.
But to no avail, I swore it would never happen again.
Two phone calls later and I gave it.
I'm such a sucker, why do I try so hard?
The simple things I do to prove I care for you.
I won't be there, I'm not a fool.
I am getting tired of you.
I won't let this world get me down.
And your silly games won't get me down.
I pray to god that you won't get me down.
