Lynchtown U.S.A.

Sloppy Seconds

Oil up your shotgun for the time of your life And tell the wife that you won't be home tonight Lock up your daughters in the hickory shack And jump in the back of my pick-up truck, all right We're gonna go downtown where the action is We're gonna plug a couple nigger-lovin' communists We're never ever gonna hear from them again And it's open season, so open fire! We got shit for brains and guns for hire! It's a dirty job, but that's the price you have to pay Here in Lynchtown Lynchtown, USA! Call up my uncle, he's the chief of police, The justice of peace, and the circuit judge besides We'll round up a couple of the good ol' boys We gotta make some noise, but let's leave our hoods behind We gotta show these long-hairs where it's at With burning crosses and baseball bats And they'll never ever be seen or heard again And in Lynchtown, nobody ever sings They don't know where they were or know what they did So it's the easiest thing And it's open season, so open fire! We got shit for brains and guns for fire! It's a dirty job, but that's the price you have to pay Here in Lynchtown Lynchtown, USA!
