

Everything Is Exactly What It Seems

Slow Runner

Everything is exactly what it seems
Everything is exactly what it seems
She's not hiding wings beneath her leather jacket
Everything is exactly what it seems

Making my way downtown through the haze
Making my way downtown through the maze
I thought I'd figure out how to change
But you never change

Everyone is exactly who they are
Everyone is exactly who they are
You're not straying far from who you were in high school
Everyone is exactly who they are

Making my way downtown through the haze
Making my way downtown through the maze
I thought I'd figure out how to change
But you never change
You never change
You never change
You never change

Everywhere is a place I've been before
Everywhere is a place I've been before
They've got the same fucking stores I always end up lost in
Everywhere is a place I've been before

Making my way downtown through the haze
Making my way downtown through the maze...
